AGREEMENT

Scope + timing. Three consecutive months from the agreed start date, with four edited videos / reels and twenty edited photographs each month. Additional deliverables or scope changes require written approval of any added fees. The engagement ends after three months unless both parties agree to extend it.

Included usage. After the corresponding payment is received, BLUSH has a nonexclusive, worldwide, ongoing license for final delivered content on its owned and operated social accounts as unpaid, organic posts. BLUSH's team or agency may publish on its behalf within these terms.

Additional licensing. Paid or boosted posts, digital advertising, websites, email marketing, print advertising or publication, packaging, broadcast, out-of-home, and digital out-of-home use require a separate written license and fee before use. Fees depend on media, duration, territory, and exclusivity. Independent use by other brands, partners, publishers, or third parties requires written permission.

Ownership + delivery. TAVO retains copyright in the photography and video it creates. BLUSH retains its supplied brand assets. Only final edited content is licensed. Raw files, editable project files, and copyright transfer are excluded.

Production. Shoot dates, creative direction, delivery dates, and revisions are agreed in writing before production. Access, locations, talent permissions, music, and other third-party permissions are confirmed before production. Extra travel, rentals, talent, locations, or production expenses require BLUSH's prior written approval. Rescheduling and resulting timing or fee changes are agreed in writing.

Select one plan. By signing, both parties accept this three-page proposal, its scope, payment terms, and usage rights.
